Altaba Announces Board Approval of Plan of Complete Liquidation and Dissolution

NEW YORK, April 2, 2019—(BUSINESS WIRE)—Altaba Inc. (“Altaba” or the “Fund”) (NASDAQ: AABA) today announced that the Fund’s Board of Directors (the “Board”) has approved the liquidation and dissolution of the Fund pursuant to a Plan of Complete Liquidation and Dissolution (the “Plan”), subject to stockholder approval. The Fund intends to file a proxy statement with the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission (the “SEC”) with respect to a special meeting of stockholders to seek stockholder approval of the liquidation and dissolution pursuant to the Plan.

As previously disclosed in the Fund’s public filings with the SEC, the Fund’s investment objective is to increase the price per share at which it trades relative to the then-current value of the Fund’s underlying assets. The Fund seeks to do this by reducing the discount at which shares of the Fund’s common stock, par value $0.001 per share (the “Shares”), trade relative to the underlying value of its net assets while simplifying its net asset base and returning capital to its stockholders in ways that are accretive and increase stockholder value.

The Fund has pursued a number of strategies with the goal of achieving its investment objective, including by repurchasing the Shares, both in the open market and through an exchange offer of American Depositary Shares (“ADSs”) of Alibaba Group Holding Limited (“Alibaba”) and cash for Shares, the simplification of the Fund through the disposition of assets (other than its position in Alibaba) and the resolution of certain actual and contingent liabilities, and through other means. After carefully considering the risks, timing, viability and potential impact on the Fund’s stockholders of additional strategies potentially available to the Fund to achieve its investment objective, as well as the recommendation of management, and in consultation with the Fund’s advisors, the Board unanimously determined that the liquidation and dissolution pursuant to the Plan is advisable and in the best interests of the Fund and its stockholders.

Thomas J. McNemey, Chief Executive Officer of the Fund, said, “Since June of 2017 we have taken a series of aggressive actions designed to drive shareholder value and these have yielded measureable results as our trading discount has narrowed and our stock has meaningfully outperformed a composite of its underlying assets. The right next action for shareholders is the Plan we are announcing today as it represents the most definitive step, generally within our control, that we could take to reduce the discount to net asset value at which our Shares trade.”

If the liquidation and dissolution pursuant to the Plan is approved by the Fund’s stockholders, the Fund expects to:

- sell or otherwise dispose of all of the remaining ordinary shares and ADSs of Alibaba (collectively, “Alibaba Shares”) held by the Fund (other than Alibaba ADSs, if any, to be distributed in kind) and its equity interests in Excalibur IP, LLC, to the extent any such assets have not been sold or disposed of by the Fund before the special meeting;
- make a pre-dissolution liquidating distribution to stockholders (in cash, Alibaba ADSs or a combination thereof), which the Fund currently expects will be made in the fourth quarter of 2019 and estimates will be in an amount between $52.12 and $59.63 per Share in cash and/or Alibaba ADSs (which estimates assume, among other things, an Alibaba Share price realized on sale and, if applicable, an Alibaba Share value at the time of distribution, of $177.00 per Alibaba Share);
- file a certificate of dissolution with the Secretary of State of the State of Delaware;
- after filing such certificate of dissolution, limit its operations and activities to those required to wind up our business affairs as required by law;
- follow the “safe harbor” procedures under Sections 280 and 281(a) of the General Corporation Law of the State of Delaware to obtain an order from the Delaware Court of Chancery (the “Court”) establishing the amount and form of security for contested known, contingent and potential future claims that are likely to arise within five years of the date of dissolution (or such longer period of time as the Court may determine not to exceed ten years after the date of dissolution);

- as soon as practicable after the issuance of such Court order, pay or make reasonable provision for the Fund's uncontested known claims and expenses and establish reserves as required by the Court order; and
 - thereafter, to the extent that the Fund's actual liabilities and expenses are less than the amounts required to be held as security for its outstanding claims and expenses, distribute all of the Fund's remaining assets in one or more liquidating distributions on a pro rata basis to or for the benefit of the Fund's stockholders.

Prior to making any pre-dissolution liquidating distribution, the Fund plans to sell not less than a sufficient number of Alibaba Shares to ensure that the Fund has sufficient liquid assets to cover the maximum potential reserves that might be required by the Court to satisfy the Fund's known, contingent and potential future claims and to fund the cash portion of such distribution. The Fund intends to sell no more than approximately 50% of the Alibaba Shares it holds prior to receiving stockholder approval of the liquidation and dissolution pursuant to the Plan and to sell its remaining Alibaba Shares after stockholder approval, except that any Alibaba Shares it does not need to sell to cover the reserve amounts may instead be distributed in kind. The Fund intends to sell its Alibaba Shares through open market transactions and/or through private dispositions not executed or recorded on a public exchange or quotation service. Regardless of the method chosen by the Fund, it currently intends to provide additional information upfront regarding the manner and timing that it expects to use or sell its Alibaba Shares.

The Fund currently estimates that the Fund could make total aggregate liquidating distributions to stockholders, including the pre-dissolution liquidating distribution referred to above, ranging between approximately $39.8 billion and $41.1 billion (approximately $76.62 and $79.22 per Share, respectively), which estimates assume, among other things, an Alibaba Share price realized on sale and, if applicable, an Alibaba Share value at the time of distribution, of $177.00 per Alibaba Share. Further details regarding anticipated future distributions will be disclosed in the Fund's proxy materials to be filed in connection with the special meeting.

The amount distributable to stockholders may vary substantially from the estimated amounts above based on a number of factors, including the resolution of outstanding known and contingent liabilities, the possible assertion of claims that are currently unknown to the Fund and costs incurred to wind down the Fund's business. Further, if additional amounts ultimately are determined to be necessary to satisfy or make provision for any of these obligations, stockholders may receive substantially less than the current estimates. It is possible that the aggregate liquidating distributions that would be paid to a stockholder under the Plan would not exceed the amount that a stockholder could have received upon sales of its Shares in the open market.

Upon the filing of a certificate of dissolution, trading in the Fund's Shares on the Nasdaq Global Select Market will be suspended, and our Shares will thereafter be delisted. In addition, the Fund will close its stock transfer books, after which record holders of the Shares generally will be prohibited from transferring record ownership of their Shares (except by will, intestate succession or operation of law). The Fund will, however, request that, following such time, The Depository Trust Company ("DTC") maintain records representing the right to receive any post-dissolution liquidating distributions, including any transfers of such rights. Consequently, the Fund expects that any transfers of such rights will be tracked by DTC.

The proxy statement to be filed in connection with the special meeting will contain important information regarding the Plan, including, among other things, the assumptions and qualifications applicable to the Fund's estimates of the pre-dissolution liquidating distribution, the aggregate liquidating distributions the Fund expects to make, and the amounts of assets the Fund expects to withhold from such liquidating distributions. Stockholders of the Fund are urged to read the proxy statement and other relevant materials filed by the Fund with respect to the special meeting when they become available because they will contain important information about the Fund and the proposed liquidation and dissolution pursuant to the Plan.

The Fund's management will conduct a corporate update conference call to discuss the liquidation and dissolution and the matters described in this press release on April 3, 2019 at 8:00 a.m. (Eastern time).
